

Monday

Welcome to week 10! This week we will be watching a video called 'Once in a Lifetime'. At the end of the week we will be writing our own explorer's 'sky log'.

What does the title 'Once in a Lifetime' mean? What sort of things only happen once in a lifetime?

Click on the picture to watch the video.

Task: Answer the questions about the video

Watch the opening scene again.

1. What colour is the sky?
2. What mood or feeling does this give us?
3. Can we describe the clouds?
4. What is strange about this ship?

Pause the video at 12 seconds when the man has his hand on his face.

5. What happened?
6. What do we call the object that fell off his boat?
7. How is the man feeling?
8. Can we describe someone who is sad, only describing their actions?

Pause as the turtle flies over the man's head

9. How is he feeling?
10. Which words or phrases could be used to describe the turtle?

Tuesday

Click on the picture to rewatch the video.

Task one: Answer the questions about the video

Pause the video at 1 minute 8 seconds – when the turtle is towing the ship.

1. How is the man feeling now?
2. Where do you think the turtle is taking him?

Pause the video just after the rope snaps.

3. How is the man feeling now?
4. What options does the man have to carry on with his journey? List as many decisions that the man could make as you can.

Watch until the end

5. What do you think will happen next?
6. What type of story do you think this is?
7. If you were telling the story which creature would you use instead of a turtle? Why?

Task two: Odd ones out

How many of these can you remember from the film? Make a list of the ones you remember seeing. Once you have finished watch the video again and see if you got them right. Which are the odd ones out? Check your answers on the next slide.

airship	shadow	rope	sword
boxes	goggles	headscarf	map
clouds	telescope	toolkit	flying turtle
flying elephants	propellers	compass	bag

Wednesday

What makes a good sky explorer?

Discuss with someone at home – what sort of a person would make a good sky explorer? What qualities must you have?

Wednesday

What makes a good sky explorer?

Discuss with someone at home – Why would somebody want to be a sky explorer? What does the job entail and what are the benefits?

Task: Create a job description for a sky explorer. Use the template below to help you set out your description. Remember to make the job sound appealing!

Once in a Lifetime

Can you create a job description for the job of sky explorer?

Are you looking for adventure within your job? Does the thought of being paid for a 'once in a lifetime' experience excite you? Then this could be the job for you!

Job description

Location

Benefits

Working hours

Contact and closing date

Thursday

Click on the picture below to rewatch the video.

Task: Create this grid in your work books. What might the sky explorer experience whilst standing on the deck of his boat in the sky? Write your ideas inside of the boxes.

See	Hear	Smell	Touch	Taste

Time to write!

Today we are going to write our own sky log. It will be similar to a diary entry! You must include description using the senses grid you completed yesterday as well as the explorer's thoughts and feelings. Here is a WAGOLL to give you some ideas!

Sky Explorer's Log

Date: Monday 4th September 2089

Location: 36,500" above the Pacific Ocean

A couple of hours ago, I heard the strangest noise. It was like singing, but incredibly high pitched and like nothing I have ever heard before. My heartbeat and breathing quickened, and I reached for my trusty telescope, which confirmed that I hadn't imagined it. There, at the portside, appeared a bale of sky turtles! It was amazing! All around the ship, they glided majestically, like giant lily pads floating on still water. Their calming scent of salt water filled my nostrils. This was exactly why I took this job, to see such wondrous and beautiful beasts. Who knew that they even existed?! Cautiously and carefully, with trembling fingers, I lassoed a rope around one of their shells, with the intention to let them guide me to land more quickly.

Then, in an instant, my excitement was brought to an abrupt halt. The rope snapped! Not only did I worry I would become stranded, but I also feared that I was going to miss out on accompanying these mystical creatures for part of their journey...

We will speak again later!